MAZATLAN ATTACKED FROM OVERHEAD; BOMB DROPPED

Carranza Goes to View Scenes of Villa's Conquest at Torreon—Vanguard of Rebel Army Starts for Saltillo and Zacatecas—British Subjects Killed

On Board U.S.S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico, May 6.—Via wireless to San Diego, May 7.—Four persons were killed and eight wounded to-day by the explosion of a bomb that was dropped into the city streets from a constitutionalist biplane. Firing between the constitutionalist and federal fortifications continues. In the artillery fighting the besieging forces have enjoyed the better of the contest so far.

Los Angeles, May 7.—Mazatlan, the Mexican west coast city, surrendered to-day to the constitutionalists, according to a dispatch received by Adolfo Carrillo, Carranza's representative in this city. There was still fighting, the dispatch added, General Guerrero, the rebel commander, driving a part of the federal garrison toward the waterfront.

The dispatch was signed Pabla, secretary of foreign affairs, Chihuahua. General Telles, the federal commander, sent word to the constitutionalists that he could do nothing but surrender.

Chihuahua, May 7.—General Carranza, head of the constitutionalist government, left here late last night for Torreon accompanied by his staff, but the executive officers of the constitutionalist government still remain in Chihuahua. The visit to Torreon is in connection with financial affairs. The constitutionalist mint, which is turning out gold and silver coins, is located at Torreon, and General Carranza is to settle on this visit a number of questions dealing with the standardization of the currency issued under his supervision.

From Torreon, General Carranza is expected to go to Torreon, the citizens of the city having requested his presence since the city was captured by General Villa. It was intended that General Carranza should review the 15,000 troops gathered at Torreon for the Saltillo and San Luis Potosi campaigns.

General Carranza is expected to return to Chihuahua within a week.

Washington, May 7.—The vanguard of the rebel forces at Durango and Torreon has started on its march to begin the campaign for the capture of Saltillo and Zacatecas, according to a report received at the state department to-day from Consul Hamm at Durango.

One American and two British subjects have been killed at mines in the vicinity of Guadalajara. A man by the name of Randsdell, presumably a British subject, and seven Americans are cut off by bandits in the vicinity. Other Americans are safe. This information came in a dispatch from the British vice-consul at Guadalajara to the British embassy to-day.

While the reports of Carranza's successes were discussed here to-day the South American aviators went ahead with their arrangements for the beginning of the preliminaries of mediation near the Canadian border May 18. They will leave Washington on May 14. Huerta's three representatives are expected to reach Puerto Mexico to-day on their way to the United States. The United States mission is expected to be announced later this week.

The navy department to-day issued a report describing work accomplished by the navy aeroplanes at Vera Cruz. "The live way in which the work was done is typical of the navy aviators," the report said. "After making a record in getting away when ordered in service from Pensacola, the Mississippi, under the command of Lieut.-Commander H. C. Mustin, arrived at Vera Cruz April 24. At daylight the next morning, the Mississippi anchored and five minutes after the anchor was dropped, Lieut. Ballinger was in the air in a flying boat making a scouting trip.

"Both aeroplanes on board were ready the night before and could have immediately taken to the air. It was necessary, however, to report to Admiral Fletcher on shore and get his orders for scouting."

New York, May 7.—Representatives of practically every petroleum interest in Mexico gathered in New York to-day to attend a meeting called for to-night when the Mexican situation will be discussed.

ARGUMENT ADJOURNED IN TREMBLAY APPEAL

Rule of Church Followed 150 Years; But Law Made for All Province.

London, May 7.—The Tremblay marriage case from Quebec, in which the wife appeals against the annulment of marriage granted to her husband because they were cousins in the fourth degree and married without dispensation, was continued to-day before the privy council. Arnold Wainwright concluded the arguments for the wife.

Mr. St. Germaine, speaking for the husband, maintained that the French law and the Canadian law were identical and this unanimity was intended to continue under the code in order to have harmony between the churches and the code.

Lord Moulton said they had to find a consistent meaning for article 127 of the code. The framers of that article might mean that they did not take upon themselves to fix in a general way the civil consequences of ignoring this provision.

Mr. St. Germaine urged that the codifiers intended the old rules to remain fully in force, else they would not have specified "the right of granting dispensations appertains to those hitherto enjoying it." Mr. St. Germaine added that for a century and a half it had been understood that the Roman Catholics were to follow the rule of their church as to marriage.

The Lord Chancellor—"That is so, but on the other hand you legislate for the whole province of Quebec, which is partly Protestant." Lord Haldane further intimated as his opinion that the code really made a new law.

The case was adjourned until Monday.

TEAMSTERS RETURN ON SECURING CONCESSIONS

Seattle, May 7.—The strike of the teamsters for higher wages and recognition of the union began last July and which caused the employment of 45 extra policemen, the shooting of several men and the destruction of thousands of dollars' worth of harness, has been ended by arbitration. The union is not recognized, but the men get better wages and the right to wear their union flag on their hats. It is expected that all the union teamsters will obtain employment except a few who were convicted of destroying property. General officers of the American Federation of Labor sought a settlement last November during the annual convention of that body, but the Seattle employers' association prevented an agreement.

PANAMA LOCKS ARE UNDER ARMY GUARD

Washington, May 7.—Army detachments have been stationed to protect the locks along the Panama canal. Col. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, reported to the war department to-day.

Col. Goethals said that acting on instructions from Washington to take all precautions against trouble at the canal during the Mexican situation, he had turned over the guarding of the locks to the commanding officer of the Tenth infantry, now in the zone.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND IS DEFENDANT IN LIBEL

Writ Served To-day at San Francisco at Instance of William H. Hall.

San Francisco, May 7.—A United States marshal armed with a summons in a libel suit was the reception that greeted John Hays Hammond, millionaire mining engineer, plenipotentiary and traveller, when he arrived to-day at the end of a trans-continental trip. The suit is for $150,000 and was brought by William Hammond Hall, Hammond's nephew, more than a year ago. This is the first time, however, that the defendant has been within range of the court.

The suit is based on a telegram said to have been sent by Hammond to Jesse E. Lilienthal in this city in April, 1912, from Washington, D. C., regarding a deal by which Lake Eleanor was sold to the city. According to the complaint, the telegram closed with these words: "Under no circumstances will I give him one cent more, but will show him up as a man who will resort to any means to extract money."

Hall, who is an engineer, claims damages for the injury he feels this did him with his business associates and with his family.

Judge Dooling in the United States district court granted permission to-day to take Hammond's deposition in the case.

FIRE AT PONOKA.

Ponoka, Ala., May 7.—Fire which burned fiercely for three hours early this morning destroyed a general store and two other smaller buildings. The post office was located in the former and was destroyed. The damage is not known. The building is partially insured.

Unionist Wrangles Are Bad For Business Asquith Government Never Was Stronger

Newspaper Speculates on the Meeting Between Asquith and Redmond

Post and Express Still Cry No Surrender and Mail Digs Up Danger

London, May 7.—The parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Telegraph has the strongest reason to believe that Premier Asquith saw Mr. Redmond last week and told him that he was satisfied it would be impossible to apply compulsion to Ulster. Mr. Asquith, having received more trustworthy and fuller information regarding the efficiency and spirit of the Ulster volunteers, recognized that the most serious and sanguinary measures would be necessary to deal with such a force. He learned that it would be impracticable to employ the Irish constabulary against Ulster.

Under the circumstances, the premier informed Mr. Redmond, the Telegraph asserts, that the only courses were a settlement upon a basis of exclusion of Ulster acceptable to Ulster, or a general election on the issue after the Home Rule bill had been passed. "The Daily Mail foresees two possible dangers. If the Ulster compromise forms a separate amending bill after the passage of Home Rule, the Ulstermen will regard the passage of Home Rule as a defeat and as one rendering the Unionists unequal to the Nationalists and will therefore be inclined to negotiate a settlement, while the passage of the Home Rule bill will force the Nationalists from their 'government serfdom' and they may vote against the government if the further proposals are antagonistic to their ideals.

Meanwhile it is significant that the Morning Post assures the Unionists that their apprehension that their party leaders are committed to a compromise is groundless, while the Daily Express devoted a "no surrender" article to the same purpose, confidently asserting that the conference of the party leaders will come to nothing and concludes by saying: "Though the Home Rule bill may be passed, the bill by the Commons and may be rejected by the Lords, even though signed by the king it will not come to fruition. It is more than dead."

The Pall Mall Gazette, the editor of which is J. L. Garvin, leader of the "Eps. Herald" of the Unionist party, pays tribute to "the dexterous programme of the government, pointing out that the plan can only be impeded by a rising in Ulster and the establishment of a provisional government, which, before negotiations could be completed, would be unpopular at least in England.

Toronto, May 7.—A special cable from Belfast says: "It is understood here that a number of influential business men of all parties will be called into the Home Rule conversations going on in London between Premier Asquith, Sir Edward Carson and Andrew Bonar Law. Walter Long's assurance that Ulster's principles will not be compromised has allayed the feelings of the covenanters. The opposition, it is certain, will never allow Home Rule to be passed without a pledge for the exclusion of Ulster. If otherwise a provisional government will at once be set up, backed by the volunteers' bayonets."

General Macready visited Derry and Omagh yesterday. A "white paper" just issued shows Macready to be practically the military governor of Belfast, commanding the civil and military forces of Ulster.

SIR EDMUND OSLER IS REPORTED IN ILLHEALTH

Confirmation Not Obtainable at Toronto Office of Dispatch From Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 7.—There was a rumor here to-day that Sir Edmund B. Osler was very ill at the Manhattan hotel, New York.

Toronto, May 7.—Inquiries at the home here of Sir Edmund Osler failed to get confirmation of the rumor that he is ill. Sir Edmund was at Hot Springs, according to the latest advice received at his office and was expected home on Sunday. Last week he was confined to his room with a slight bronchial trouble, but it was understood that he had recovered.

METHODIST CONFERENCE AT MONTREAL ON JUNE 9

Toronto, Ont., May 7.—The annual Methodist conference will meet in Montreal on June 9, and the ministerial session of the annual conference on June 10, when various business will be transacted. The general session will be held on Friday, June 12. Rev. Dr. Spalding, minister of Dominion Church, Ottawa, will preside.

GLOOM PERVADES ALL UNIONIST PROSPECTS

London, May 7.—Shrewd opinion agrees that the prospects of the ministerialists have not been as bright for two years as they are to-day, and the prospects of the Unionists have never been so gloomy. The opposition realize that they have been outmanoeuvred. There is now no need to hurry the Ulster negotiations on the government. Next year a popular budget dealing out a huge surplus, coupled with a more or less permanent settlement of the Irish question, and the abolition of the plural voters will enable the ministerialists to appeal to the country with the fullest confidence.

KING AND QUEEN OPEN BRITISH MUSEUM WING

First Part of Extension Completed at Cost of One Million Dollars

London, May 7.—King George and Queen Mary to-day opened a new wing of the British museum which has just been completed at a cost of a million dollars. It is the first part of a large scheme of extension.

In 1895 the government bought a considerable portion of the Duke of Bedford's property around the museum for $1,250,000 and a large area was cleared. The legacy of $250,000 bequeathed by Vincent Stuckey Lean for the enlargement of the museum gave impetus to the present extension. The bequest was intended particularly for the extension of the reading room and library, to which the testator was a frequent visitor.

The new building is in architectural harmony with the old museum. Its facade, which is flanked by two massive towers, is of Portland stone, the outer walls and pedestals of the forecourt being of Scotch granite. The main entrance is surmounted by a balcony, the parapet of which is formed by the stone laid in June, 1907, by the late King Edward. The doorway is formed of marble, surrounded with granite, and is closed by a bronze door, the upper panels of which are sculptured in relief.

The architectural composition of the building is severely simple. In the interior the object in view has been to deprive the extension of everything irrelevant to the main purpose, the primary idea being to make it a mere background for the exhibition of the nation's treasures.

An important part of the new wing is the staircase, which is the link between the old building and the new one. This is extremely simple in design. Its walls are covered with marble, which has been selected more for its texture as a background for antique sculptures than for its veining. The building comprises a basement as well as sub-ground, ground, mezzanine, and top floors.

The top floor will accommodate the print department. In the basement floor will be stored books or newspapers. The eastern half of the sub-ground floor will be utilized as a copyright office and for book storage, and the western half will be in part a public newspaper room.

The mezzanine floor will be largely given up to staff rooms, and it contains space for the future accommodation of music and maps. The Stein collection of eastern paintings is being temporarily housed there.

CHASE ISSUES CALL FOR COURT MARTIAL

Denver, Colo., May 7.—Adjutant-general John Chase issued to-day a call for a general court martial to try military cases growing out of the Ludlow battle and fire of April 20, in compliance with the report of the military commission, which investigated that affair. The court martial will convene May 11.

EMPEROR WILLIAM IS GODFATHER BY PROXY

Berlin, May 7.—Emperor William acted as godfather at the christening in Berlin to-day of the infant daughter of Lieut.-Commander Walter R. Gherard, an American naval attaché. His majesty was represented by an adjutant. He explained the emperor desired to be the little girl's godfather because of his high regard for George Bancroft, the American historian, the child's great-grandfather.

Wait and See Policy Means Financial Loss to Belfast Merchants

Settlement With Honor Would Be Gladly Welcomed by Unionists in Ireland

BY GEORGE H. MAITLAND
Special Correspondent of Victoria Times in Ulster
(Registered under Copyright Act.)

Belfast, May 7.—For Belfast business men the wait and see policy means to wait and suffer, and perhaps the government could have adopted a no more effective means to bring about a settlement than that of simply letting Ulster alone to reap the bad harvest of business uncertainty. The possibility of trouble has meant a cessation of building operations here, a prominent manufacturer assured me, and there is a general lull in trade which is very disquieting to business men. The longer it continues the worse the condition becomes. This manufacturer, who is a Unionist and prominent in Belfast municipal life, but not an extremist, gave his views on the situation, which are decidedly interesting.

"Business men," he said, "recognize the principle of arbitration and would like to see a conference between the party leaders, perhaps resulting in a reference of the dispute to an impartial tribunal. Some form of Home Rule is bound to come. I believe the Conservatives would have granted it under another name if they had been a year longer in power, and if the Liberals were defeated to-morrow the new government must still reckon with the demands of the Redmondites, which will not cease with the defeat of the bill. The present bill is certainly objectionable to Ulster Protestants, but we admit that some change in conditions is necessary. Belfast, for instance, has to go to the Imperial parliament even to extend a park, and a bill is now in the Lords for that purpose, costing £2,000 to authorize an expenditure of £20,000. The partition of Ulster is not feasible, in fact, I do not like the exclusion idea at all, for Ireland is too small to be divided. Already ill-feeling has been aroused causing business boycotts in some quarters, and even Protestant manufacturers of Dublin and of the south are using the situation to get southern trade from their fellow Protestants in Ulster. Our agents there assure us that many prominent Catholics are not favorable to the bill in its present form, but dare not say so openly."

These straightforward remarks from the Unionists typify the anxiety of many Belfast business men for what they call a settlement with honor. Meantime families are divided against themselves. A Protestant home ruler in Armagh has two sons in the Ulster despatch riders' corps.

Italy Signs Peace Treaty With America

Rome, May 7.—The signing at Washington of a new peace treaty between the United States and Italy is commented on favorably here. The Corriere d'Italia, in its issue of to-day, says the matter is one of great importance, particularly as Italy, among powers of Europe, has a deep interest in the labor situation in the United States.

WEYERHAUSER WAS NOT SO RICH AS REPORTED

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—In a petition for the proving of Frederick W. Weyerhaeuser's will, filed with the testament in the office of Probate Judge Bazille to-day, an approximate value of only $375,000 is put on the estate of the St. Paul lumberman, who died at Pasadena, Cal., April 4. He was reputed to have been one of the wealthiest men in the nation.

ALEXANDER OF TECK TO BE GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Prince of Royal Blood Will Succeed Duke of Connaught as King's Representative in Canada—Appointment Gives Pleasure on Parliamentary Hill

London, May 7.—Prince Alexander of Teck, third son of the late Duke of Teck, is to succeed the Duke of Connaught as governor-general of Canada. Official announcement of this appointment was made to-day.

Prince Alexander of Teck is forty years old. He was married in 1904 to Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice of Albany and has one son and one daughter.

H. S. H. Prince Alexander Augustus Frederick George of Teck, G. C. V. O., D. S. O., Kt. of Justice St. John of Jerusalem, holds the rank of captain in the Royal Horse Guards and was A. D. C. to Col. Mahon in South Africa, where he served during the Boer war in 1900-02. His residence at home is Henry III tower, Windsor Castle.

The children of the Prince and Princess are Princess May Helen Emma, born January 23, 1906, and Prince Rupert George Augustus of Teck, born August 24, 1907.

Ottawa, May 7.—The announcement that another member of the Royal family has been appointed governor-general of Canada was heard with great interest to-day by members of parliament. It is the opinion on Parliament Hill that Canada will continue to receive princes of blood only, as governors-general hereafter.

GEORGE KIDD TO TAKE UP SPERLING'S OFFICE

Change in Management of B. C. Electric Company Made by Directors.

London, May 7.—At a meeting of the directors of the British Columbia Electric Railway held yesterday, R. H. Sperling was appointed, to the position of assistant to the chairman of the board with a seat as director. George Kidd was elected general manager of the company in succession to Mr. Sperling.

In making the appointment the board expressed its sincere thanks to R. H. Sperling, general executive assistant; G. R. G. Conway, chief engineer, and all the officers of the company for their invaluable services and unwavering loyalty during the period when Mr. Sperling acted as general manager of the company. They also expressed the assurance that this same spirit on the part of the staff would be continued under the new management.

Mr. Kidd's appointment as general manager dates from May 6. Mr. Sperling will take a holiday before taking up his work in London on August 1.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED ON MURDER SUSPICION

Body of Man Found 31 Miles From Vernon; Death Caused by Violence.

Vernon, May 7.—Five men were arrested yesterday by Constable Fraser on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of James Berryman, a lumberjack, who body was found on Sunday 31 miles from Vernon at the junction of the Cherry Creek and Richlands roads. Berryman, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury, was murdered by persons unknown. The body was covered with bruises and with the marks of caulk shoes. Six ribs were broken and the head bruised. The post mortem had shown that death was due to internal hemorrhage.

The evidence at the inquest shows that the deceased, in company with Arthur Quinn, William King, Tom Sullivan and Larry Green, left Lumby last Thursday, bound for the lumber camp at Cherry creek. Thomas Christian, of Lumby, proprietor of a livery barn, was the driver. All five are now in the Vernon jail. At the inquest all testified that they were drunk during the drive and had no recollection of when or where Berryman left the rig. The deceased was unmarried and came from the state of Maine.

PRISONER AT PORTLAND ESCAPES DURING NIGHT

Williams Jumps From Window; His Wife Still Remains in Jail.

Portland, Ore., May 7.—Paul Williams, alias Edw. Carl, who was arrested on an indictment which charged him with obtaining money under false pretences, escaped early to-day by leaping from the second-storey window of the county hospital. Williams and his wife, Harriet Williams, were extradited from Los Angeles recently. Williams was in his nightclothes Thursday, bound for the lumber camp at Cherry creek. Thomas Christian, of Lumby, proprietor of a livery barn, was the driver. All five are now in the Vernon jail. At the inquest all testified that they were drunk during the drive and had no recollection of when or where Berryman left the rig. The deceased was unmarried and came from the state of Maine.

CANADIAN COURT HIGH ENOUGH SAYS HALDANE

Privy Council Refused to Hear Appeal That Supreme Bench Could Deal With

London, May 7.—The lord chancellor made an interesting pronouncement before the privy council to-day regarding Canadian appeals. The court was asked by Ogden Lawrence to grant leave to appeal in Carey versus Routs, a Quebec case in which the only point was the construction of a contract of land purchase.

The lord chancellor, in refusing leave, said that Canada had created her own supreme court as a final court of appeal. The prerogative of appeals being heard by the privy council was not, however, taken away, but the council did not remain an ordinary court of appeal. It was certain that the statute did not intend that there should be any going beyond the Canadian supreme court in a case such as was involved in the present application. The prerogative of the council was not, therefore, to be exercised. His lordship added that there was once a period when in this respect the practice of the privy council was more lax than it should have been.

An application was made by R. C. Smith, K. C., on behalf of the Montreal Tramways company, for leave to appeal against a decision of the King's Bench of Quebec which had upheld an order of the provincial legislature constituting a Quebec public utilities commission and granting later the power to summon witnesses and demand documents. The tramways company maintained that such powers could only be granted by the Dominion government. In granting leave to appeal, Lord Haldane said that the solicitor-general of the Dominion would be allowed, if he chose, to intervene in this appeal.

The privy council granted leave to appeal in the case of St. Charles vs. Surgeon, concerning the sale and transfer of a license to restaurant premises in Montreal. Lord Haldane remarked that the case involved important principles which ought to be decided.

SHOT HOTEL PROPRIETOR WHEN ORDERED TO LEAVE

Denver, Colo., May 7.—L. F. Nicodemus, proprietor of the fashionable Denver hotel, who was shot and seriously wounded late yesterday by Col. James C. Bulger, soldier of fortune, was in a critical condition to-day at a hospital.

The shooting took place in the hotel lobby after R. K. Starkweather, one of the proprietors, had ordered Bulger to leave the hotel following a quarrel with several patrons.

WATER VAPOR ON MARS CONFIRMED BY LOWELL

Boston, Mass., May 7.—The theory of the existence of water vapor on the planet Mars was confirmed by spectrograms taken at Lowell observatory, Flagstaff, Arizona, according to an announcement given out last night by Dr. Percival Lowell from his office here.

The statement says that while the amount of water is difficult to determine, the estimates place it at about one-third that of the atmosphere of the earth.

INLAND TRADE MINISTER RETAILERS' SUGGESTION

Calgary, May 7.—Delegates to the convention of the Alberta branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada yesterday discussed the advisability of urging the government to create the portfolio of minister of "inland trade, in view of the fact that a much larger sum of money is invested in retail distribution than in any other manner in Alberta. The question was left over for another year. The convention is also opposed to municipalities running stores.

BOULDER DISTRICT MEN SURRENDER 110 WEAPONS

Washington, D.C., May 7.—Major Symonds, in command of two troops of cavalry in Boulder county, Colorado, reported to the war department to-day that up to last night a total of 110 weapons had been given up in that district in obedience to the proclamation calling for the surrender of arms by striking miners and mine guards. Major Symonds asked and received authority to send all weapons collected to Fort Logan.

WILSON'S DAUGHTER BECOMES MRS. M'ADOO

White House Bride Twenty-Three Marries Family Friend Aged Fifty-One

Washington, May 7.—Another White House wedding, the second during the present Wilson administration, occurs to-day, when Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, at six o'clock marries William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury in the Wilson cabinet. Miss Wilson is the fourteenth bride of the White House, and the first daughter of a president to be united to a cabinet officer.

The bride is the brunette of the Wilson daughters, twenty-three years old. The bridegroom is to-day, Secretary William McAdoo, was born in Marietta, Georgia, 51 years ago. He was vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, and as acting chairman during much of the 1912 campaign, the acquaintance between the two, fated to be bound together later by family ties, has had no breaks from its inception. Mr. McAdoo's first wife died about two years ago. She was Sarah Houston Fleming, of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Of his six children, three sons and three daughters, the two eldest are married.

Lawyer and Trust Company

Not many years ago the lawyer was an active competitor of the Trust company. He regarded its activities along fiduciary lines as an invasion of his professional field.

To-day lawyers and trust companies co-operate rather than compete. The one-time rivals are not only friends but allies. Members of the legal profession, with but rare fossil exceptions, now recognize the inevitable progress of the corporate executor, trustee and administrator.

The trust company to handle the business end, and the lawyer to handle the legal end—that is the ideal combination for an estate. Your will should so provide for your estate.

COMMONS DEBATE IS MAINLY HOMESTEADS

Fenian Raid Bounties Bill Attacked; Applicants' List Doubtful

Ottawa, May 7.—There was a long discussion in committee of the commons to-day on Hon. Dr. Roche's bill to amend the Dominion Land act. The bill aims at making some of the conditions in regard to homesteading and the securing of pre-emptions in the west less onerous than they have been. One important provision is that a homesteader will have a right to take up a pre-emption three years after he has secured the title to a homestead, or he may purchase a pre-emption at once at $3 an acre, provided fifty acres are brought under cultivation.

Another provision is that instead of performing homestead duties such as have been prescribed in the past a settler may keep a certain amount of stock on the land. The idea is to encourage mixed farming.

W. A. Buchanan and Mr. Knowles advocated the abolition of the payment of interest in connection with the purchase of pre-emptions, and Dr. Roche agreed to let the clause stand over.

Mr. Douglas, of Strathcona, moved that the pre-emption provisions be extended northward to include the Peace River valley and other northern districts suitable for cultivation.

Dr. Roche thought it would be wiser for the present to encourage mixed farming in the older districts than to send homesteaders into the far north, where transportation facilities are lacking. The proposal was negatived on a standing vote.

Good progress was made with the bill, but it was not disposed of.

Col. Hughes' bill for the extension of time for the payment of Fenian raid bounties, introduced shortly before midnight, provoked a vigorous discussion.

Mr. Carvell led the attack against the proposal, declaring it constituted the most contemptible scandal in the history of Canada. Of the 15,000 applicants in Nova Scotia, Mr. Carvell said at least 1,000 could not have possibly been born at the time of the threatened invasion. He urged the minister to amend the act and to deal with the remaining applications in a more businesslike manner.

J. J. Hughes, of King's P.E.I., moved an amendment providing that Prince Edward Island be included within the scope of the act as well as New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Major Sam Sharpe, North Ontario, said that Mr. Carvell had made serious allegations against the people of Nova Scotia. If there was any truth in them they should be investigated.

Morning sittings will begin on Monday. In this connection Sir Wilfrid Laurier said of the fourteen new government bills, of which notice has been given, only five have been presented to the house. He thought the other nine should be brought down this week, or else should be allowed to go over until next session. He suggested that the morning sessions should not commence until next Wednesday.

The premier replied that he would prefer to have the morning sessions start Monday.

Sir Wilfrid asked if the co-operative bank bill would be introduced this year. Mr. Borden said he was not sure.

PLURAL VOTING SHOWN IN VANCOUVER ELECTION

Conservative Association Responsible for Doubling Up of Many Voters.

Vancouver, May 7.—So far as the scrutiny of the ballots cast at the last civic election has gone, there is ample evidence that plural voting was carried on, on a somewhat extensive scale. Shortly after the election Alderman McBeath moved a motion in favor of such a scrutiny owing to certain things that had been brought to his attention. The result has justified the motion and there is authority for the statement that the actions of those who exercised the franchise on more than one occasion on election day and in more wards than one was the outcome of instructions issued by the local Conservative association.

In ward one there were thirty-five electors who each voted from two to five times the full ticket; in ward two, between twenty-five and thirty did so; and in ward three, of twenty recorded their votes not only in that part of the city, but in other wards where they owned property.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE EXPRESS THEIR LOYALTY

Toronto, May 7.—Daughters of the Empire sent from here yesterday a resolution of loyalty to King George, expressing the hope that he may be Britain's ruler for many years. The convention visited fifty children at the consumption preventorium. An affecting scene took place when the children sang "O Canada."

Members were received by Lieutenant-Governor and Lady Gibson last night. The national secretary's report told of the active work done by the organization throughout Canada.

SALMON PACK SHORT TWO MILLION CASES

Seattle, May 7.—Preliminary estimates of the salmon pack for this season place the pack at between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 cases short of last year, and the market has already begun to feel the effects of the possible shortage. It is announced that pinks jumped to 75 cents per dozen in one day.

FIGURES ON CANADIAN NORTHERN ARE Tabled

Application of Sir William Mackenzie to Premier Was for $45,000,000

Ottawa, May 7.—Further information with regard to the Canadian Northern railway was laid on the table of the house yesterday by Premier Borden. He said that by the time the resolution is ready to be debated next Monday the members of the house will have in their hands all available information and figures regarding the financing, construction, revenue, expenditure and other necessary details of the C. N. R. system.

The returns contain a statement of issued securities, the report of the government auditor as to the receipts and expenditures on the C. N. R. system, and the relations thereto of Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann. The report on the finances of the system was made by three government officials—G. A. Bell, S. L. Shannon and J. C. Saunders.

The correspondence between Sir Wm. Mackenzie and the premier was tabled. On March 5 Sir William Mackenzie laid before the premier a memorandum regarding the C. N. R. system, setting forth in considerable detail the condition of the road.

Accompanying the memorandum was a letter applying for a guarantee of securities to the extent of $45,000,000, par value. Sir William added that he was making this application, as he recognized the difficulty in the way of a cash loan.

The following is a statement of C. N. R. receipts which have been available for construction, betterment, equipment, etc.:

Total proceeds—Securities, $217,039,310; cash subsidies, $35,323,780; land sales, $7,842,466; equipment mortgages, $32,811,467; Halifax & Southwestern, $175,090; Halifax & Yarmouth, $675,000; sundry, $724,189; total, $284,591,304.

The amount due on construction is $21,262,527.

The total of expenditure have been as follows: Construction, $244,670,169; equipment trust, $14,050,456; purchase of equipment, $1,500,596; purchase of lines, $794,699; betterments, $22,834,390; acquired securities, $3,455,612; advances to allied companies, $12,726,418; Winnipeg terminals, $3,801,489; total, $306,533,832.

Another statement shows the expenditures on the system to the contractors, Mackenzie & Mann, up to December 31, 1913. The summary is as follows:

Receipts—Federal subsidies, $1,376,530; provincial subsidies, $3,877,550; municipal subsidies, $70,000; guarantees, $108,407,501; other securities, $59,676,360; total, $223,407,641.

Expenditures—Construction and equipment, $244,670,169; due on construction, $21,262,527.

The principal expenditures to the construction company were: Canadian Northern of Ontario, $52,815,623; Canadian Northern, Port Arthur to Yellowhead Pass, $141,907,095; Canadian Northern Pacific, $34,760,907; Halifax & Southwestern, $3,663,973; Duluth & Winnipeg, $5,299,691; Canadian Northern of Quebec, $4,223,889.

The total of principal payments by the company is $23,746,000, and the interest is $4,382,027.

C. P. R. PREFERS WHITE LABOR SAYS PRESIDENT

Winnipeg, May 7.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was in Winnipeg yesterday on his return from a trip of inspection through the west. Sir Thomas said that the financial depression would not affect the company's work in the west, and that all projects now started would be carried through. He announced the policy of the C. P. R. in regard to the Oriental question. The C. P. R. preferred white labor, but if it were not obtainable the company could hardly be expected to stand back with folded arms.

Sir Thomas, while at Bassano, opened the dam which is the key to the vast irrigation system established by the company.

LATE SENATOR GIBSON BURIED AT HAMILTON

Hamilton, Ont., May 7.—The late Senator William Gibson was laid at rest in Hamilton cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The funeral took place from his late residence, Inverurie, Beamsville, via the train to Hamilton, the cortege going to St. Paul's Presbyterian church for the service. A private service was held for the family at the residence.

The pallbearers were four sons-in-law, John Jennings, of Toronto; D. N. Fennie, of Winnipeg; C. W. Darling, of Toronto; and J. J. Eastwood, Hamilton; and R. G. Mackie, Alex. Gibson, of Woodstock, and R. B. Davidson, of Ottawa.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR CALIFORNIA BUILDING

San Francisco, May 7.—Special trains and automobiles brought visitors from all parts of the state to-day to participate in the celebration attending the ground-breaking for the California building at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The huge pavilion, where the exhibits of the various countries are to be installed, and which will be the state's entertainment headquarters during the fair, will cover five acres and will cost approximately $2,000,000. Mission architecture, embracing the various styles to be noted in the old California missions, will be followed.

Between the years 1880 and 1900 France spent $26,000,000 on the construction of new canals and the improvement of existing ones.

THE GALLERY CLOCK OF BRITISH POLITICS

By H. F. GADSBY

(Special Cable from Staff Correspondent. Copyrighted.)

London, April 17.—Ulster to play and general election to win—that's the card. The Die Hard leaders may have only a professional goal for the wrongs of Ulster, but for a general election on the old terms, that is to say, with the advantage of plural voting, they harbor a genuine passion. In fact they cry for it as children are said to cry for certain soothing medicines mentioned in the advertising columns.

What's more, they want that general election before the home rule bill is passed. It's now or never. There is no salvation in anything later, because the home rule bill once on the statute book and a Dublin parliament striking a good gait, it will be beyond Ulster's power of resistance to defy the law of gravitation, by which the greater always draws the less. If a plebiscite were taken to-morrow, possibly only two Ulster counties, Down and Antrim, would elect to stay out of the big show. Plainly two counties are not enough in the way of moral support.

Besides, the wicked Liberals have more thunder up their sleeves. If the home rule bill is passed over the lords veto, this diabolical government will at once propose a supplementary home rule bill embodying all the good features of the opposition criticism up to date. It will not only include the offer of six years' exclusion for Ulster, but it will do away with the federal features of the main bill, post office and customs, around which so much controversy has raged. It will be making two bites of a cherry, but it will be a good cherry when the job is finished. If the thing could be done more directly, the government act must not be flouted by its creators, and the parliament act works on the principle that the longest way round is the shortest way home. It is not only the shortest way, but the surest, because the ground that has been well trodden for three years in succession comes under Shakespeare's classification at firm-set earth. The parliament act may seem to delay the law's delay, but it is a wise device, and under its provisions there is no chance for a Jerry-hunt or a Jerry-bait. They build freedom, as they build most other things in England, to last.

Ireland Like Ontario. When the home rule bill and its supplementary bill, the present bill and the child of its sad experience, become law, Ireland will have much the same kind of local government as Ontario, with the addition of an elective second chamber, which will be called the senate. It will be a bit of a novelty, but it will not be home rule of the kind or exercised by the Dominion of Canada. It will not be "Ireland a nation" any more than it is "Ontario a nation," and there will be nothing in the Irish constitution to prevent Ireland coming in to the general scheme of federalism for the United Kingdom, or perhaps for the British empire, of which the first step is devolution for Ireland, England, Scotland and Wales. In short, the supplementary bill will remove all the reasonable objections which the Die Hards have so far discovered.

It is to head off these counsels of perfection, to avoid being robbed of their last grievance, that the Die Hards are clamoring for a general election right now. Supplementary bill, they say! Ha, ha! A pretty home rule bill that needs patching the first time out of the box! But all the same they realize that if the lords throw out this supplementary bill the sin will be on their own heads, and that sensible Englishmen will hold them accountable for imposing a lop-sided system of home rule on Ireland when they might have helped to confer a well-balanced one. Moreover, once in power, with the home rule bill and the supplementary bill in force, they could not, with a straight face, repeal the very kind of home rule for which, so far as they have argued for any form of home rule, they have contended in parliament. However, consistency concerns them quite as little as home rule does. What really moves them is the need of a general election before these awkward questions come to a point.

Ulster An Electioneering Chance. Ulster is the key to the Die Hard policy, not because Ulster is to suffer harm, but because Ulster is their last electioneering chance. If plural voting is abolished it means thirty more seats for the Liberals. If certain treaties with the Labor party are carried out it means another thirty seats, so that the Die Hards who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that, as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so will the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion. Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle of cause and effect in their daily food. A young woman writes her experience thus: "Sometimes I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicine seemed useless. A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, praising it highly and as a last resort, I tried it. I am thankful to say that Grape-Nuts not only relieved me of my trouble, but it me up and strengthened my digestive organs so that I can now eat anything I desire. But I stick to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

PRUDENTIAL LIFE BILL CARRIES. Ottawa, May 7.—After a stormy session in the banking and commerce committee yesterday the preamble bill of the Prudential Life of Canada was carried by a majority of 34 to 10.

observed, is an adept in the gentle art of using the coal oil can on the kitchen fire. Another suggestion is that the Die Hard leaders draw off and let the real Irish confer, but this is obviously impossible. It would be the gravest kind of blunder on the part of the Die Hards to allow the North and South of Ireland to become friendly. If they did, what becomes of all the money and time spent on keeping sectarian prejudice alive in Ulster.

Must Be No Parley. No, the army in Ulster must be maintained at its full negotiating strength. There must be no parley, no truce, no armistice. Olive branches and white flags are for the Nationalists. They have the arguments on their side and can afford to be reasonable. But the Die Hards have only the Ulster army and their own rock-ribbed resistance. They see no crime in tampering with his majesty's army, but it's hands off King Carson's. The Ulster army is in no danger of melting away until it accomplishes its real victory, which is not permanent exclusion for Ulster from a Home Rule Ireland, but a general election on the old deck of cards for the Tory Die Hards of England. If the Die Hards won that election, it is generally agreed that they could no more coerce the South than they could the North. The Liberals can coerce the North of Ireland to accept it. But that would not feaze the Die Hards, their object being not so much Home Rule for Ireland as Tory rule for England. Ireland could probably have as many kinds of Home Rule as she liked so long as she did not bother the Tories in their noble work of choking to death most of the Lloyd George policies.

On the other hand, if the Die Hards lost the election, the Ulster army would be in commission again. The Die Hards do love general elections, and Premier Asquith has been very generous in granting their wishes, having given them three chances to get beaten in six years, but the use of a standing army as a standing argument for general elections seems like stretching the thing a bit too far. Ultimately the government would have to deal with it by means of something stronger than precautionary measures. On the whole, the best plan would appear to be to put the Home Rule bill through now, and trust Ulster to mellow in six years. If the Die Hards take their next defeat like men, if they show themselves gallant and "honorable losers," that mellowing ought to begin as soon as they cease their party agitation in Ulster. It is conceivable that the great Unionist party which Salisbury was leading not so long ago may again produce a statesman who will scorn mean tricks, and who will not talk gunpowder as a substitute for constructive blessings.

One Good Army Deserves Another. The Ulster army has been a useful weapon for the Die Hards, useful to the extent of getting one concession that they do not want and no concession that they do. But the Ulster army cannot expect to go without competition much longer. Indeed, one good army deserves another, and the fact that the Nationalist Volunteer movement has gone no further than it has is due to the patience and forbearance of the Nationalist leaders, who hesitate to countenance anything that would hurt the cause of United Ireland. Still, patience is a virtue with limits, and if Ulster maintains a standing army for the purpose of forcing civil obedience, it is only fair that the rest of Ireland should maintain a standing army to keep his majesty's laws on the statute book.

Another example of forbearance on the part of the Nationalists, which illustrates their genuine zeal for harmony, is the absence of any boycott of the Belfast banks by depositors in the South of Ireland. It's a peaceful way of making war, but I almost think it would crumple the resistance in Ulster better than a rival army.

CAUSE AND EFFECT
Good Digestion Follows Right Food

Indigestion and the attendant discomforts of mind and body are certain to follow continued use of improper food.

Those who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that, as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so will the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion. Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle of cause and effect in their daily food. A young woman writes her experience thus: "Sometimes I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicine seemed useless. A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, praising it highly and as a last resort, I tried it. ### COLUMBIAN BOAT LOST

VESSELS END SEARCH
Franconia Reaches Boston With Thirteen Survivors and One Victim of Tragedy.

Sable Island, N. S. May 7.—The third boat, which with nineteen men departed from the burning steamer Columbian Sunday night, was still missing to-day and wireless advices received here said that vessels cruising in the vicinity of the disaster had given up the search.

Boston, Mass., May 7.—When the Cunard liner Franconia, from Liverpool, arrived to-day bringing thirteen members of the crew of the burned steamer Columbian, rescued from a boat south of Sable Island, several of the survivors were suffering severely from burns and all showed the effects of exposure. The body of Chief Steward Matthews, who died from burns while in the open boat, was brought by the Franconia.

FREIGHT STEAMER BURNED.

Erie, Pa., May 7.—The steel freight steamer City of Rome, Buffalo to Toledo, was burned to the water's edge off Ripley, N. Y., early to-day. The crew escaped in boats.

The saloon passengers of the Franconia assisted in giving first aid to the survivors, providing clothing for them and subscribed to a fund for their relief.

The survivors had not recovered sufficiently to give a detailed account of their escape from the burning ship.

EGGS FROM CHINA MUST BE BRANDED IN AMERICA

Seattle, May 7.—The United States department of agriculture has ordered that hereafter all cases of eggs from China shall be branded "Product of China." Heretofore they have been labelled "fresh pullets." Chinese eggs are smaller than standard, and readily pass as pullet eggs. Attempts to store China eggs here have failed. Rot spots soon develop. The eggs are in good condition when received here, however. Receipts continue heavy.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results. If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint which hazel will prove remarkably effective.

THE KOMAGATA MARU.

In about three days this coast, probably Victoria, will be under the Imperial searchlight. The arrival of the chartered steamship Komagata Maru
with more than six hundred Hindus
will be an event little less disturbing
for the statesmen of Westminster than
the recent perplexing situation in South Africa. The venture is a deliberate challenge of our immigration regulations as they affect British subjects from India. It has been organized for that purpose, not by irresponsible agitators or unenlightened individuals, but
by a Hindu of wealth and influence. It is meant to create a definite issue, and the consequences may be very wide indeed.

It is not only a British Columbia
problem that is being accentuated by the trip of the Komagata Maru but an Imperial problem of the first magnitude. It would be well for the immigration department to bear the fact constantly in mind in dealing with the immigrants of this class. For reasons which need not be referred to at this moment we cannot afford to let down
the bars, but we should not accomplish our object by methods which more than ordinarily offend the susceptibil-
ities of the almost countless millions of His Majesty's subjects in India. There are many ways of doing a necessary though unpleasant thing. One is to do it offensively. Another is to do it in such a way as to cause a minimum of friction.

C. N. R. DEMANDS.

The only defence, apparently, of the proposition of the Borden government
to further endow Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann to the extent of forty-five million dollars at the expense of the people of Canada is that the opposition has no alternative policy to offer. There was a Liberal government in power at Ottawa for fifteen years, and during all that time there never was a situation that was not met and there never was a time in the history of Canada when the people enjoyed such prosperity.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues oppose the arrangement of the Borden government with the Canadian Northern Railway Company because the road that company controls practically was built on the credit of the people of Canada, and matters have reached such a pass, on the confession
of the promoters and builders themselves, that it is imperative that the public whose investments in the concern are the largest by far, should have a controlling interest.

The total cost of construction, according to the data laid before parliament, is about three hundred and five million dollars. In subsidies, guarantees, land grants and concessions of various kinds, the Dominion of Canada
and the provinces and municipalities
thereof are interested in the enterprise
to the extent of upwards of two hundred and eighty millions of dollars.
Yet, in consideration of a further guarantee which will carry the investment
of the country beyond the three hundred and twenty million dollar mark,
the company graciously consents to pledge with the government common stock of the value of forty millions, and Mr. Borden tells the public that the terms submitted are satisfactory. Under this arrangement Mackenzie &
Mann still will control the road, although they have not shown that they have a single dollar of their own money
invested in it, while the representatives of the people whose credit has brought it to the point where it stands
to-day as a system of transportation,
will occupy the position of minority shareholders, with such influence in the councils of the company as minority stockholders are permitted to exercise in all concerns of a corresponding character.

Liberals in parliament or out of it do not oppose the completion of the Canadian Northern system. They are not so fatuous as to suggest anything of the kind. They recognize that it must be finished, not only because of heavy investments already incurred but because under efficient management after it is completed it will prove a value

artery through which will flow the business lifeblood of the country. But they take the position that if Mackenzie & Mann are to be given further assistance they must answer a number of questions as a condition precedent
to the grant. They must make their personal relations with the Canadian Northern company and with a number of subsidiary and independent companies clear. They must demonstrate that funds which under the ethics of common business dealings should have been sunk in the construction of the Canadian Northern road have not been invested in enterprises such as street
railways, lighting companies, mines and fisheries. They have not done that in any of the statements they have submitted to parliament, and apparently the Borden government is not disposed to insist upon their doing
it.

Furthermore, there is no guarantee that Sir William and Sir Donald, having got the Dominion involved still deeper in their "undertakings," will not be back next year for more. They repeatedly have stated that former demands were the last, but they always have come back. On this occasion
they have gone farther than usual in their "petitions." They have made threats. They have said that the credit of the country is involved, and that if they were forced into the hands of a receiver the country would be the chief sufferer. Which is very frank, but quite true. It also indicates the character of the gentlemen with whom
the country has to deal and how unfit Premier Borden is to handle men of the type.

ISN'T HE GREAT?

"I believe it will be pretty near the millennium before they get into office.
(Laughter.) They are divided into factions. This is not the time to swap horses, in crossing the stream,
and I believe that is the opinion of a great majority of the people of this province. When good times have been restored they can elect the Liberals to once more squander the assets of the province. (Cheers.)—Mr.
Bowler at Vancouver.

Now, isn't he the one great and original Mr. Bowser? Endowed with a grasp of detail equalled only by his prototype who went to St. Helena,
he knows, of course, that there never
has been a Liberal government in power in this province. How then could Liberals "again" squander the assets of the country? Moreover, Mr.
Bowler knows that there is neither a Liberal nor Conservative government in office at the present time. Instead the McBride party reigns. Soon, for a short time, it will be succeeded by the Bowserite party. Between them and their friends everything in the province not spiked down has been corralled. That is why the people of British Columbia are determined to kick the buccaneers into oblivion.

INFORMATION WANTED.

A large number of farmers from the prairie provinces have made their homes in Washington state, many of them going to the Puget Sound district. In fact, it has been stated that the arrivals in the neighboring state
from the Canadian Northwest are now much more numerous than those who come to British Columbia. If this is true it would be interesting to learn the reason for it. A few years ago
this province received a great number of people who had been successful in the grain belt. Many of them made their homes in the coast cities, attracted by their equable climate and residential advantages, while others
took up fruit land in the Okanagan and elsewhere. They were a most desirable class of citizens and settlers, the very best type a country could have. If for the most part they are now going to Washington we should bestir ourselves to ascertain the causes thereof.

One of the reasons for this movement may be surmised. Conditions in the prairie provinces have become intolerable for a large number of settlers. They have grown weary of tolling for the banks, the implement firms
and the railroads without any compensating relief in the shape of wider markets for what they produce. Within the last three years the number of homestead entries has diminished by twenty thousand. Western members of parliament declare that there is a considerable exodus from the country which is strongly reminiscent of the conditions which prevailed in the nearly pennines.

But why should they go to Washington instead of coming to British Columbia? Is it because there is less encouragement to embark in agriculture
here than there is in the prairie provinces? Is it because land, the cost of farming implements and other necessaries are cheaper on the other side?
This is an important matter for our province, and we suggest that the secretary of the board of trade communicate with the secretary of the Seattle
chamber of commerce to get the facts.

THE MUNICIPAL INSPECTOR.

"All the half-column of criticism
which our evening contemporary devotes to the appointment of the municipal inspector amounts to this, that it had the making of the appointment
it would have appointed someone else.
We assume this may be taken for granted. When the evening paper admits that the McBride administration has done anything which it ought to have done, and left undone anything
which it ought not to have done, we shall all get measured for our haloes,
for surely the millennium will be at hand."—Colonist.

We did not criticize the appointment
of the municipal inspector on partisan grounds but because it implied that in the opinion of those making it there was nobody in the province competent to fill the position. We contended
there were persons here so qualified and that they were available in the ranks of the supporters of the government as well as on the other side.

The wide powers given the inspector under the act require that he shall know considerable of our municipal system besides having a knowledge of banking and the flotation of loans.
There are plenty of men in Victoria,
Vancouver and the other provincial cities who are familiar with both subjects. If there are not, it is a sad commentary upon the capacity of our business men, emphasized by comparison with those of Saskatchewan. We put this question to our contemporary:
Does it seriously believe that there is nobody in this province qualified for the appointment of inspector of municipalities? It need not fear to give a candid answer. We promise that we will not interpret a negative response
as a sign that its confidence in the administration is wavering, and we are sure nobody else who knows it will.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

On the same day publicity was given to Hon. J. D. Hazen's letter to the secretary of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteers stating that the government at this stage was unable to accord recognition to the organization because of the wider considerations involved came the announcement that the militia department had authorized
the formation of a squadron of the British Columbia Horse on Vancouver Island. Also a new infantry regiment
to be organized at Nanaimo.

Why should not the same encouragement be extended to the movement now
so successfully under way for naval training? Militia companies are springing up all over Canada and the department promptly takes them under its wing. Yet when a promising naval organization applies for similar recognition it is told this is impossible
until due regard has been given to wider considerations. Yesterday we explained what those wider considerations were, but we submit that although
M. Pelletier may oppose a naval organization or association of any kind for Quebec it is no reason why the government should refrain from assisting the movement at Esquimalt.

This matter should be taken up by the Vancouver Island members at Ottawa. They should protest in the strongest manner against the neglect of a movement which, if properly encouraged, would do much to keep alive
the naval spirit of the country. In this connection we would draw their attention to the following extract from the annual report of the president of the local branch of the Navy League:

"The visit of H. M. S. New Zealand to these waters last August was an event fraught with the greatest importance. Another event of very great importance has been the establishment of a company of naval volunteers, whose unbounded enthusiasm
and efficiency have created a deep and favorable impression with all those who have been fortunate enough to have seen them at work. It is to be feared that unless the request for official recognition is shortly acceded to,
the future existence of this important
unit of coast defence will be seriously
imperilled.

The morning paper's contention that Australia should not criticize the admiralty because the advice it gave her
was unpalatable is based upon erroneous premises. Australia has followed to the letter the advice which the admiralty gave her in 1909 accompanied by an agreement binding the two parties to a certain course of action. The commonwealth kept the compact. The admiralty did not.

Moreover, it varied its performance
without even notifying the Pacific dominion. Quite naturally, the confidence of the Australian statesmen in the bona fides of the admiralty has been weakened. The implication that it is presumptuous for the dominions
to criticize the admiralty under any consideration is silly. If the admiralty violates a pledge it lays itself open
to criticism, and we may add that Australia is not alone in her denunciation. Critics at home are administering rebukes with no gentle hand.

Bonar Law has as many tariff reform policies as Mr. Borden has naval policies. His latest proposal is to put a protective duty of ten per cent. on luxuries imported into the United Kingdom. He will have to go higher to recoup the Unionist moneyed interests the millions they have been patiently shelling out for the equipment of the Carson army. Anyway, the Ulster situation will give Bonar Law another argument in favor of tariff reform.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, United States
charge d'affaires at Mexico City, has won for himself a high place in Uncle Sam's diplomatic service. He has discharged his very delicate duties with consummate ability, and he has had no
pencil. It is no joke to put to a man like Huerta the propositions he has received from Washington, especially when it is remembered that Huerta is generally loaded with firewater, a bad
stimulant for an Indian.

The morning paper says that when the Times finds anything in the present provincial government to praise it will be time for its members to get measured for their haloes, for the millennium will be at hand. Should not the word be "halo"? That is a Son-ghees expression. It cost the country $75,000 to educate the Colonist in the dialect of this tribe and we do not like to feel that the money was wasted.

We suggest that the D. G. S. Gun-nild be sent out to head off the Komagata Maru, which with six hundred Hindus is nearing our coast.
Just let the master of the liner get
one glimpse of the swift, business-
looking quarantine tender bearing up on him at the furious rate of nine knots an hour, and he will turn in his tracks and make for home.

TAKE WARNING, GIRLS.

(Detroit Free Press.)

The girls who visit young men in their apartments do so at the peril of their reputations. Too much of it is done.
The clandestine is the unsafe. Social conventions are for the protection of both sexes. One trouble is that girls' heads are filled with the romantic nonsense
gathered from silly novels where unconventional beginnings of acquaintance lead
to "and they lived happily ever afterwards." The "unconventional acquaintance"—synonym for a flirtation with the stranger of either sex—is something it is safest to avoid.

Getting Ready For Summer

To Clear the Racks for the Display of New Summer Dresses. We are Clearing Out a Large Number of Women's Suits Friday at $8.75, $14.75 and $23.75

These Are Regular Values From $15.00 to $50.00

WE have carefully gone through our stock of Women's Suits, picking out all broken sizes and Suits of which we only have one of a kind, re-marking them for a special clean-up on Friday. We are doing this because we must have the room for the display of our new Summer goods.

The three prices into which these Suits are grouped will afford a splendid opportunity for every woman to be correctly attired in a very smart and fashionable suit. That every Suit is marked at a bargain price can easily be gathered from the fact that not one suit in the lot was marked less than $15.00, and most range at higher prices up to $50.

The assortment includes plain cloths, serges, brocades and fancy checks, also a nice assortment of combination Suits with check skirts and plain coats trimmed to match skirts. Other features include Rag-lan and kimono sleeves, the new draped skirts, and all are silk or satin lined.

Just 63 of these Suits, and the man who requires a really good Suit for every day or business wear has a chance to secure a very fine quality at a very low price. The price for a good Suit is low, we admit, but it's the quality behind the price that is most important. These Suits are worth, in the regular way, nearly double. A special purchase brought them here for us to sell at $8.75. Don't miss this opportunity if you are in need of a new suit for the Summer, for every Suit is a bargain worth while. We guarantee, too, a perfect fit and your choice from a nice selection of shades and patterns. Special, to-day, per suit, $8.75.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, Tuesday, May 7, 1889.

It is reported that the young sockeye salmon turned loose in the Harrison river some weeks ago are thriving nicely. They are to be found in large schools at any point of the river where the water is shallow, and they are as healthy looking as young trout.

The yacht Nyanza, which is on a long-drawn-out cruise around the world, has sailed for Hakodadi, Japan.

H. M. S. Amphion arrived in Esquimalt at 6.30 Monday evening, three days from San Francisco. The Amphion is a steel cruiser of the second class and carries ten long-range rifled cannons.

A metal pole has been placed in the Deluge engine house, connecting the second floor where the firemen sleep, with the ground floor or engine room, for the purpose of facilitating the movements of the firemen at an alarm. When an alarm is rung at night, the firemen will pull on their clothing, which is always kept in readiness, and jump for this pole, sliding down and landing near the heads of the horses. The time saved is important.

Ad. Men's Convention.—At the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's association in Vancouver next month an address will be delivered by Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the provincial bureau of information, who is chairman of the community committee in connection with the convention.

Court of Revision.—The first sitting of the municipal court of revision in connection with local improvements will be held to-morrow morning in the council chamber, when appeals from the assessment for local improvement works on several streets will be taken up. There are only a few of these, however.

Reception to Author.—At 8 o'clock on Saturday evening the Y. W. C. A. board will hold a reception at the association rooms, Douglas street, in honor of Dan Crawford, who is to be a visitor in the city for some days. In addition to the principal address of the evening, by the well known author himself, there will also be talks by Rev. Hermon Carson and Rev. T. W. Gladstone.

Mock Trial.—On Monday evening next the Young People's Society of C. E. of the First Presbyterian church is to hold a mock trial, which is expected to prove of interest to all societies of Christian Endeavor in the city. "Mr. Christian Endeavor" is to be tried for his audacity in attempting to spoil "Mr. Liquor King's" business, ruin "Mr. D. Still-Brewer's" trade, waste the time of the young people of Victoria and give the public generally a wrong impression of its importance in society. The members of all Christian Endeavor societies in the city are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Provincial Assessments.—Thomas S. Fitcher, judge of the provincial court of revision under the Taxation act and the Public Schools act, held his first court yesterday afternoon at Sidney, for the North Saanich and islands assessment districts. This morning he held court at Prince's hotel, for the assessment districts of the Esquimalt and Victoria assessment districts. At these he heard appeals from the assessments contained in the supplementary assessment rolls for the year 1914. On Tuesday next he holds a court at the offices in the Belmont house for the Victoria assessment district.

Corrects the Aldermen.—George E. Handley, Cedar Hill road, wrote to the city council some time ago correcting statements made at the time the city refused to purchase some land for the opening of McNair street. Mr. Handley takes exception to statements that he owned all the property, that he demanded twenty cents a foot for it, that the city would not benefit by opening McNair street, that he had approached the city to buy a road and that he wanted to open a subdivision. He says: "All this is absolutely incorrect and absurd and is a romance lacking even the color of fact." His letter goes into a long history of the matter from 1911 onwards.

Regatta Officials.—Officials for the Victoria Day regatta at the Gorge have been named. Captain J. W. Troup will be referee and the judges for the general rowing, canoe and other events will be Captain George E. Robertson, Commander Hobbs, R.N., George Jay, H. P. Bishop, Harry Skuce and H. J. Whitton. P. R. Pomfret, Robert F. Ely and Warren Long will judge the swimming events. Dan O'Sullivan will start the races and W. Long the swimming, and the clerks of the course will be A. R. Kirkpatrick, E. Logan and J. N. G. Simpson. Should the Algerine and the Shearwater be in port on that day there will be added to the programme a couple of races for the tugs, including ten-oared cutters and five-oared whale-boats.

Alterations to Golf Club.—Some slight alterations are being made to the clubhouse of the Victoria Golf club. A building permit for $450 has been taken out at Oak Bay for the purpose.

Naval Volunteers.—After Thursday next the usual drills of the naval volunteers will be discontinued for the summer, except for the boating on Saturday afternoons, but the members of the corps are asked to attend all the drills for the next week.

Gypsy Dance.—The Gypsy dance originally arranged by Mr. Bate took place last evening at Connaught hall, Mrs. Michael Hallward in Mr. Bate's absence owing to illness, taking charge of affairs. About seventy of the "Gypsy" players and their friends were present, many wearing fancy-dress costumes which provided the affair with additional interest. Dancing, which was from 9 to 2 a. m., was to the music of Mr. Heaton's orchestra, and during the evening refreshments were provided by Mr. Campbell. The function proved most enjoyable for all who were present.

Possibilities in Small Instruments

To the real lover of music there are wonderful possibilities in small instruments, such as Accordions, Harmonicas, Banjos, Guitars, etc. Violins are recognized media of the highest type of musical expression, and the Cornet and Trombone are worthy of no small musical ability.

Fletcher Bros. offer you the best makes in all such instruments. Ours is the largest stock in the West, and is always complete.

Besson and Boosey band instruments are known the world over for quality and durability. The complete line of these makers is represented in our Band Instrument Department. Trombones, Cornets, Trumpets, Euphoniums, Bases, Drums—every instrument required for either solo or band purposes, you will find here, at very reasonable prices.

Gibson Mandolins are leaders of the world. They mature with age. Their tone, sweet and true, when you take them from the dealer, grows sweeter and truer as you use them. Their volume is equal to that of six ordinary guitars. Their durability is famous. Their appearance is in keeping with their other qualities. Ask for and get a Gibson, $22.50 up to $90.00.

Washburn Guitars are as well known and as highly regarded as Gibson Mandolins. They represent the fruit of years of specializing on the part of the world's most skilful living maker of guitars. In tone quality, volume, in durability of structure, in beauty of appearance, they have no equals. Don't be content with less than a Washburn, $22.50 up to $90.00.

We carry no less than fifty different styles of Accordions, all products of the world's most successful makers. These include the most popular Viennese, Italian and German models. The prices range from $3.00 to $52.00.

Oil Shipment Arrives.—The city has received a shipment of crude oil for street purposes, and immediately on its being taken into store yesterday afternoon the carts were sent out on several of the streets where the dust nuisance is the worst, and a first treatment was given to them. A further quantity will be in shortly and the city engineer will be in a position to treat all the streets on which the oil can be used.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

CHAPMAN WAS INEFFECTIVE IN THE PINCHES AND SEATTLE WON 5 TO 2

Victoria Hurler in Poor Form
Against Seattle Crew; Gipe
Showed Up Well in Pinches;
Ryan Leaves for the South

Poor battery work on the part of Chapman and Cunningham cost the locals the third straight defeat at the hands of Seattle yesterday by the score of 5 to 2 in a seven-inning game. Seattle started well. Killian, the first batter to face Chapman, singled, and took second when Zimmerman let the ball go through his legs and took third on a pass ball. Raymond followed with a fly to Crum. Killian started for the plate, but Crum's beautiful peg would have nipped him so he darted back to third. James shot to Lamb, who booted the ball, and Killian scored. Cadman beat out a lucky infield hit. Swain fanned and the inning was brought to a close when James tried to steal third.

It was lucky for Gipe that Martini made one of the greatest circus catches ever seen in the local park. After Nye had grounded out, Crum came through with a drive almost against the fence, far in left field. Martini at the crack of the bat darted down the field, and whether it was an accident or not, he deserves credit for his remarkable grab. Wilhoit grounded out.

Seattle started the fireworks again in the second. Fullerton secured a base on balls. Duddy shot a sharp single to centre. Martini hit into a double. Delmas to Nye to Brooks and Fullerton scored when Chapman cut loose with a wild pitch. Neither team scored again until the fifth inning, when Victoria equalized the score. Delmas opened this period with a single and Cunningham walked. Chapman forced Cunningham at second. Nye singled. Delmas scoring. Crum singled. Duddy, Seattle's third-sacker, in an attempt to catch a foul ball, fell into the bleachers, injuring his ankle, and was replaced by Perrine. Nye, who had also injured his leg in the third inning, was replaced on second by Swain. Chapman scoring. Zimmerman singled filling the bags, but Brooks fanned for the third out.

Seattle made the victory decisive in the sixth when it touched up Chapman for four hits and three runs. Swain was the first man to bat, and with two strikes called on him, lifted the next ball against the wire netting. Fullerton walked and Perrine sacrificed the runners on. Martini drove one towards second, but Scanlon made a beautiful stop and while he could not head off Swain at the home plate, he retired Martini at first. Gipe shot a hard single to centre, scoring Fullerton. Killian singled. Raymond singled, scoring Gipe, but James grounded out retiring the side.

Neither team scored in the seventh inning, when the game was called in order to allow the players to catch the boat for Seattle.

Chapman was very wild, issuing no less than seven bases on balls, while he was rapped for nine hits. Gipe had beautiful control and passed few men.

The Junior Bees whipped the City Messenger Junior league team Tuesday evening by the score of 16 to 0 in five innings. The Messengers could do nothing with Parfitt, the Bee slasher, while Roy Baker on the lower. For the Bees, Slator, Carriers was batted freely, his support also being very ragged.

Parfitt had seven strike-outs to his credit, while Baker did not retire a batter on strikes. The teams lined up as follows: Junior Bees—Livingstone, catcher; Parfitt, pitcher; Moore, first base; Smithers, second; McCluskey, short stop; Taylor, third base; Liddle, left field; Wheeler, centre; and Sneddon, right field. Messenger team—Pitcher, Baker; catcher, Denny; Jenkins, first; Martin, second; Campbell, short stop; Stewart, third; Milne, left field; Barry, centre; and Williams, right field.

Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the Bees will meet the Hornets on the Royal Athletic diamond.

Lee Ryan, first-sacker released by Victoria, left yesterday for the south, where he will play first base for St. Francis. Ryan had signed with St. Francis, but as that team has Ed Steele for first, the big Irishman was advised to accept the Southern job.

On Sunday and probably also on Saturday the fast local semi-professional nine, St. Francis, will clash with the Post-Angles team in the first of the inter-city games this season. St. Francis will probably lineup as follows: Cox, catcher; Slator, pitcher; Steele, first base; Mole, second; Graylin, short; McDougal, third; Clark, Clementson and Potts will form the outfield.

Portland, Ore., May 7.—Chief Battiste, the Indian twirler of the Colts, was too much for Vancouver yesterday, the locals winning 3 to 2. Reuther gave way to a pinch hitter Jones finished the game. Brinker got a home run in the fifth and it was followed by Wottell's scratch and Cheek's two-bagger. Before and after that the Chief was in supreme command. Hits by Williams, Hausman and Murray scored Portland's first run and Melchior's pass. Mulligan's triple and Guilan's sacrifice fly scored two in the third.

Score— R. H. E.
Vancouver ..... 2 6 1
Portland ..... 3 5 0
Batteries—Reuther, Jones and Cheek; Battiste and Murray.

Tacoma, May 7.—The locals hit both McCorry and Smith to all parts of the lot yesterday. A feature of the game was the hitting of Butler, of Tacoma, who made five hits, two of them doubles, in five times up.

Score— R. H. E.
Spokane ..... 4 10 2
Tacoma ..... 14 19 1
Batteries—McCorry, Smith and Altman; McGinnity and Harris.

RITCHIE MATCHED TO FIGHT CHARLIE WHITE

Milwaukee, Wis., May 7.—Willie Ritchie is going to give Charlie White a chance at the championship this month. It will be either May 25 or 29 in the Auditorium arena at Milwaukee with Tom Andrews promoting the show. That much was settled to-day by a wire from the champion.

Ritchie originally agreed to box for $10,000 guarantee and 40 per cent. privilege of the gross gate. Then he raised the ante and demanded a 50 per cent. privilege. Nate Lewis, White's manager, concluded that they could not let the champion get away with a big gate in sight. Lewis said that the club was the only sufferer, as White's 25 per cent. still stands. Andrews says Lewis helped to meet the champion's terms.

RIGGING CHANGED.

Bristol, R. I., May 7.—Changes in the racing rigging of the cup defence candidate Resolute will prevent further trial spins for several days. The Resolute has had three sail trials in Narragansett bay, during which her designer, Nat Herreshoff, and the managing owner, R. W. Emmons H., have made a critical study of her performance and have decided upon certain changes in her rig.

SCOTT WAS ONLY VICTORIA WINNER

J. B. A. A. Boy Easily Won Light-Heavyweight Title; Seattle Captured Most

Seattle Athletic club mitt and mat artists carried off the major honors at the Pacific Northwest championships held in Vancouver Tuesday and yesterday. Three wrestlers and three boxers of the Sound city club took titles away from them.

In previous years Vancouver Athletic club has usually carried off the majority of the events, but this season only one of that club's entries won honors. That was Gills, who captured the heavy-weight wrestling title, while an opposition Terminal City club won three firsts, Harry Anderson taking the 135-pound title, and Percy Atcheson the 145 and 155-pound championships.

McCarthy, of the Multnomah invaders, won the 155 and 175-pound wrestling titles, while Oliver Runchey, Seattle, sterling 125-pound wrestler, won two events, 125-pound and 135-pound championships.

Blainey Scott, of the J. B. A. A., was the only Victorian to bring back honors. He defeated two opponents and captured the light-heavyweight championship.

Al. Davies, who was considered the most likely winner, of the Victoria school, was eliminated the first night when Earl Baird, of Seattle, outpointed him in three rounds. Al. was not examined by the doctor before appearing in the ring, and would not have opposed the Seattle boy had he gone under the examination. He was stale, his usual ginger was missing, and no one was more surprised at his defeat than the Terminal City people.

Billy Davies states that Blainey Scott was head and shoulders above the other light-heavyweight entries, and easily won his title.

president of the university of British Columbia, whom he has known for long but whom he had not seen for twenty-four years. The two left last night for Vancouver, where Commissioner Obee will be the guest of Dr. Wesbrook. Mr. Obee stated that he has visited Victoria yearly or twice yearly for the past twenty years.

To-day is the eightieth birthday of Hon. J. H. Turner, agent-general of British Columbia in Great Britain, and congratulations were cabled to him this morning by Sir Richard McBride, H. B. Thomson, M.P.P., Mr. Speaker Eberts and many more of his friends in Victoria. It is thirty-five years since Mr. Turner first was mayor of the city and nearly twenty since he was premier. For the last twelve years he has been living in London as agent-general.

Dancing and a musical programme formed pleasant diversion at the "at home" given last evening to the graduating class of St. Joseph's hospital, the hostesses for the occasion being the members of the intermediate class. The event took place in the nurses' recreation room, which was lavishly decorated with spring flowers and sprays of lilac and laburnum. Those who assisted on the programme included the Misses Hempel, Middleton and Paterson, all of whom gave vocal solos, and Miss Ross, Miss Howard and Miss Winter, who contributed instrumental numbers. The latter part of the evening was spent in the pleasant pastime of dancing, during which refreshments were served. The annual picnic will take place next Thursday, through the kindness of Dr. Fraser at his summer home at Saanich Arm.

"WITHIN THE LAW"

WAS WELL RECEIVED

Large Audience Witnessed American Play at Royal Victoria Last Evening

"Within the Law" is a big, virile, human play. Analyzed, it would probably come under the heading of melodrama, but while there is a series of violent situations and unexpected happenings, the play is so much like a slice out of real life that the average onlooker forgets the melodrama and sees only truth. That truth may be brutal and unpleasant, it may reek of gehenna or expose festering sores, but it is a great moral force notwithstanding.

Briefly "Within the Law" is a tilt at the methods employed in modern New York by the police department. It sets lance in rest against "third degree" and other barbaric methods resorted to by the Spanish Inquisition. It reveals also a glimpse of the underworld of crooks and gamins and the "seamy side" of a great city. And while the figures may be painted in with a broad brush, the canvas is wide and can hold them. Bayard Veiller, the author, knew his New York, and he also knew his audiences.

Practically the same cast filled the various roles at the Royal Victoria theatre last evening as appeared here at the old theatre last year. Margaret Illington, as leading woman, has lost none of her emotional force in the interim. She has a trying part, and does not spare herself one whit in the rendering of it. As Mary Turner, the shop girl sentenced to three years for a crime she never committed, she is somewhat more natural than as that same girl transformed into an adventuress living on her wits, and keeping barely on the lee side of the law.

The second act of the play is Miss Hilde Kewenau's. This talented and gifted actress is no stranger to Victoria playgoers. She has already appeared once before in the part of Agnes Lynch, and previous to that in an important role in "The College Widow." Last night she scored a great personal triumph as the little, warm-hearted Hovey tough with a line of slang that would give even George Ade some inspiration. Also she proved a splendid foil to Miss Illington.

Much of the play revolves on the personality and action of the chief crook, Joe Garson, and in this part Frank E. Camp has an opportunity to exhibit some of the undoubted ability he possesses, as well as a peculiarly rich and mellow voice. One would have wished also to see more of Nell Moran, who has a role insufficient to his talent in the district attorney, while it is only right to mention the excellent work of Joseph Slayton as Inspector Burke, Howard Gould as the millionaire father, and Robert Elliott as the spendthrift son.

A large audience showed its appreciation of the piece in no unmistakable fashion.

LIBERAL LEADER TELLS OF HIS TOUR

Feeling of People in Northern Districts is That It is Time for a Change

DEVELOPMENT HINDERED BY UNWISE GOVERNMENT

Police in Fraser Lake District Are Found Connected With Illegal Sale of Liquor

An audience that filled the Liberal Rooms assembled last evening to hear the leader of the party, H. C. Brewster, speak on his recent tour of the province. Joshua Kingham, president of the city Liberal association, was in the chair and with him on the platform was F. A. Pauline, president of the Saanich Liberal association. The story which the leader had to tell of the awakening of public sentiment throughout the province in regard to the great issues was heard with much satisfaction by the members of the party present.

The chairman and A. B. McNeill spoke on organization. R. L. Drury dealt with the splendid record of the Liberal party in the federal field and touched on the position which the McBride government has forced British Columbia into by its railway aid legislation, and F. A. Pauline referred to the financial dealings of the government and the change from the surplus of a year or so ago and the need for heavy borrowings to-day.

Leader Speaks. Mr. Brewster said that his colleagues and himself had made the tour at a time when the people were not disturbed by the turmoil of an election, and thus they had had an opportunity to see some home facts in relation to the position of affairs in the province, facts which in many cases the people, as a result of the subsidizing of the Conservative press and the consequent coloring of the news published, did not know.

The impression which anyone must receive from travelling through the province, Mr. Brewster said, was one of the immensity of its wealth and resources, and the position that British Columbia could occupy if only its affairs were administered by a capable and public-spirited government. There were timber limits of unlimited value, tremendous water-powers running to waste, great areas of coal lands which should produce hundreds of millions of dollars if properly administered, and the most splendid waterways in the world at hand to bring all this wealth quickly and cheaply to the markets; in a word, a wealth of natural resources that only required a wise government in power to bring the province into its proper position as the first in the confederation in producing power.

More Production Needed. But along with this impression of a magnificent and a wealthy country the traveller through it could not help being struck keenly by the fact that there was not the production that there should be; that in many lines there was practically no production at all as compared with the possibilities. One looked in vain for any evidences of a policy of development of the mineral resources of the province, for any encouragement of settlement of the land, for anything to help the people in any way. Turn where one would there was the same record of everything that was done being twisted into politics and used solely to keep the present administration in power. There was the testimony on all sides that the policy of the government had been to create a machine, a political machine which was growing more cruel every day and which was breaking down the manhood of the people.

Men by the dozen had come to him during the tour and said that they were quite in sympathy with all he and his colleagues had said but that they dare not say so out loud, because they had to depend on the road work they could get to take out what they could make out of their farms and if they expressed any independence of opinion of they would go from the payroll. Everywhere through the province to-day men were giving their children the example of cravens, not of free-born British citizens. It was but another instance of the truth that unless cleaned out at the fountain-head, a stream could not be improved, and for this reason the leader asked the aid of his hearers to clean out the fountain of all provincial corruption and mismanagement at the earliest possible moment.

Described Conditions. Taking the audience briefly over the ground traversed in the last portion of the tour, Mr. Brewster described the conditions seen, and the reception given to Liberal doctrine as it was placed before the people. In the Bella Coola valley they had found a magnificent country, where for twenty years throughout the province in regard to the great issues was heard with much satisfaction by the members of the party present.

Prince Rupert, at the end of the coast, Mr. Brewster said, had had a hard fight against the handicaps imposed upon it by the government. It had been brought into existence as a result of the far-sighted policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, fought by every Conservative member from this province, and it had never had a fair chance so far as the provincial government was concerned. When the citizens asked for a charter, Mr. Brewster said, and submitted one which they had been at considerable expense to have drafted, one which was adapted to the peculiar circumstances of the city, "Boss" Bowser had said they must not have it and had placed them under the working of the Municipal act. Had the Liberals on their behalf succeeded they would have had a free and unrestricted access to the waterfront, but the government had given this all away to the railway and shut the people out from it. All these things were rankling in the minds of the people of Prince Rupert and the government's neglect of their interests would yet be brought home to it.

Land Question. Following in along the splendid track of the G. T. R. the first stop made had been at Terrace, situated at the entrance to some fertile valleys but with a plentiful crop of stakes of speculators on the ground. One of the many was a Seattle speculator, who had bought land from the government five years ago for one dollar an acre and was now getting from $105 to $150 for it. There, as well as at every other place visited, it was found that every good bit of bottom land, every fine patch of hillside, was held in the name of some speculative syndicate and the man who wanted to farm had to pay toll to them or else go without. On the way out through the

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the greatest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized as a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Cariboo home-seekers by the hundred had been met going in, and it was inevitable that a great many would be disappointed and come out again to "knock" the country when they found that all the land adjacent to the railways was staked by the speculator and that the only land for the pre-emptor was miles back where it would be out of the question to expect roads or trails for years to come. A count made at Hazelton showed that of one hundred land-seekers who had gone there only two had been able to get land and the others had all turned to something else.

Provincial Police. In speaking of the visit to the Hazelton Mr. Brewster mentioned the great contrast afforded there as to police efficiency between the provincial police of British Columbia and the R.N. W.M.P. of the prairies, and the necessity the people had been under to take the law into their own hands as against bank robbers. But the inefficiency of the police was not the only complaint the people in the north had to make against them. Boot-legging and connection with blind pigs were alleged to their discredit.

"I have often accused Mr. Bowser's force of being lacking in efficiency," said Mr. Brewster, "but I did not think of them as being corrupt in their administration of the law. The people in the north country, however, assured us that while the police are not much as agriculturists they have taken to raising blind pigs and with great success up there. In one of our meetings, when we had been accusing the police of grafting in connection with the social evil, a gentleman stood up in the audience and stated that he and a friend had walked into one of these blind pigs a few days before and found behind the counter, acting in the capacity of bar-tender, the provincial constable for the Fraser Lake district. And that officer, sworn to administer the law, served them with Scotch whiskey and took the money for it. Men cannot be expected to be efficient when they have the hand out for graft, but if anything is said to them up there they turn round on their critics and ask why they should not do it as well as the others higher up. The northern country wants a change, and from the temper of the people as we saw it they will have it, too."

Bad Roads. In the matter of the land, at another meeting a prominent Conservative said he had seen as many as one thousand powers of attorney at one time and a man had been paid to follow the surveyors around and put up the names from these on the stakes, taking possession of the land before the reports of the surveyors ever reached the department. ## Examine your skin closely

See if the pores have become large and clogged; if it has lost its smoothness; if it has grown colorless.

These conditions of the skin are natural results of the constant strain imposed upon it by the conditions we now live under. Every now and then the skin needs refreshing.

How to refresh your skin

Wash your face with care and take plenty of time to do it. Lather freely with Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub in gently till the skin is softened and the pores open. Then rinse several times in very cold water, or better still, rub with a lump of ice.

Woodbury's Facial Soap is the work of an authority on the skin and its needs. This treatment with Woodbury's cleanses the pores, then closes them and brings the blood to the surface. You feel the difference the first time you use it—a promise of that lovelier complexion which the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake.

Do this today—now! Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's and try this treatment. Tear out the cake now. Take it to your druggist today. Begin tonight to get the benefits of this facial soap. For sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast, including Newfoundland.

the meeting held in his home town, Quesnel, had had little to claim for the government, but one of the claims he did make was that it had increased the speed limit for motor cars. Well it might, remarked Mr. Brewster, when the roads in Mr. Fraser's district were so bad that in one spot it had taken four horses three hours and a half to travel twenty-one miles with only three people in the rig.

The feeling in the districts visited in opposition to the unjust provision of the Election act amendments, making a distinction between the native-born and the naturalized Canadian and casting doubt on the oath of the latter, was described by Mr. Brewster. A contingency not provided for by Mr. Bowser when he drafted this piece of injustice had been brought to the attention of the leaders in the north. Sons of naturalized citizens were dealt with in an amendment made to the bill after John Oliver had pointed out that as the bill was drawn it would exclude them from the franchise. They had to swear to an affidavit as to where and when the father was naturalized, and add that they were living with him at the time. But in the north it was found that many of these young men had not been living with the fathers at the time of naturalization, and thus they were absolutely disfranchised by the act of the attorney-general.

Will Speak Soon. James McGeorge, Edmonton, who was to have addressed the meeting, was called out of town on business at the last moment, but on his return he will address a later gathering. The meeting last night closed with three cheers for Mr. Brewster.

Mr. Brewster left this morning for Vancouver, where he speaks to-night before the Vancouver City and District Liberal association.

Make Hairs Disappear Almost Like Magic

(Toilet Tips.)

Advocates of the electric needle for removing stubborn hairy growths now concede that a simple paste made with powdered delatone and water is fully as efficacious and is devoid of pain, while the cost is trifling. The delatone paste is left on the hairy surface about two minutes and when it is rubbed off all traces of hair vanish. Washing leaves the skin soft, smooth and spotless. Be careful to see that it is delatone you get or you may be disappointed with the result.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The Hon. George Albertus Cox, the distinguished Canadian statesman and financier who died recently, was born at Colborne, Ont., of English descent, seventy-four years ago to-day. In his boyhood, after leaving the Colborne grammar school, he studied telegraphy and entered the employment of the Montreal Telegraph company as an operator. In 1858, when only eighteen, the company sent him to Peterborough, where he soon became a leading citizen. At twenty-one he married Margaret Hopkins, who died in 1905, and in whose memory the late senator endowed a chair at Victoria university. During his residence of thirty years in Peterborough he took an active interest in municipal and educational affairs, and was elected mayor of the city. From 1878 to 1882 he was president of the Midland Railway of Canada, which in the latter year was absorbed by the Grand Trunk system. In 1881 he was one of the backers of the Howland syndicate which proposed to build a transcontinental railway. After retiring from the railway presidency he removed to Toronto, where he founded the Central Canada Loan and Trust company, the Western and British American Pipe and Marine Insurance companies and the Toronto Savings and Loan company, and a director of the Dominion Iron and Steel company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Dominion Coal company, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and other corporations. He was appointed to the Dominion Senate in 1896.

To-day is the eightieth anniversary of the birth of the Hon. J. H. Turner, long agent-general for British Columbia in London and former mayor of Victoria, minister of finance and agriculture and premier of British Columbia.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Alfred Edward Woodley Mason is the full name of the English novelist and playwright who is known to a wide circle of admirers in both Great Britain and America as A. E. W. Mason. He was born at Everleigh, in Dulwich, May 7, 1865, and will thus begin his fiftieth year to-day. At Oxford he was a leader in amateur theatricals, and decided upon a stage career. For several years he toured the provinces "with amateur companies, and eventually decided that his talents were not in that direction. He was thirty years old when he published his first novel, "A Romance of Wastdale." Very few people manifested any enthusiasm over this work, but in 1896 Mr. Mason scored a big success with "The Courtship of Morrice Kutler." This novel, like many of his subsequent books, was dramatised. Among his works most widely read on this side of the Atlantic are: "The Witness for the Defence," "Clementina," "The Four Feathers," and "The Turnstile." The latter book is based on his observations while a member of parliament, where he represented Coventry as a Liberal from 1906 to 1910. The novelist has a London home and a country villa on the Isle of Wight, both places being bachelor quarters, since the author himself has never been involved in a romance which ended with wedding bells. He has traveled widely, and his principal recreation is climbing up mountains and climbing down again.

Joseph Gurney Cannon, private citizen, of Danville, Ill., was born in Guilford, N. C., seventy-eight years ago to-day. The former Speaker of Uncle Sam's House of Representatives, who long occupied the seat where now champions the Democratic Clark, entered Congress in 1873 and since then has Anniversary of Historic Old Flagship of Nelson.

H. M. S. Victory 110, the historic English man-of-war which was Nelson's flagship in the memorable battle of Trafalgar, is perhaps the oldest seaworthy vessel in existence. It has been kept in a fine state of preservation at Portsmouth, and to-day, as every year on the anniversary of its launching, it will be dressed with flags. The Victory was launched at Chatham dock-yard on May 7, 1765, and will be a century and a half old one year from to-day.

Nelson served under Jervis on the Victory when that gallant ship lived up to its name in the battle of Cape St. Vincent in 1797. On that occasion Sir John Jervis, in command of fifteen sail, defeated the Spanish fleet of twenty-seven ships of the line. For this victory Sir John was raised to the peerage as Earl St. Vincent, and Nelson, his able lieutenant in the conflict of the Portuguese coast, was knighted and made a rear-admiral. It was from the deck of the Victory that Nelson directed the formation of the English fleets battle line off Cape Trafalgar, Spain, in 1805, when he was opposed by the combined fleets of France and Spain. It was from the Victory that he sent his last signal, "England expects every man will do his duty." It was the deck of the Victory that he fell mortally wounded, and it was the Victory that carried the dead body of the hero to Portsmouth. The old ship is still seaworthy and in excellent condition, although it could hardly survive a single shot fired from the great guns of a super-dreadnought of to-day.

England has preserved several other ancient men-of-war which are now more than a century old, including H. M. S. Implacable, which was built in France in 1801 and is now, fully rigged, serving as a training ship for boys at Falmouth. Another historic English ship is the Caledonia, which was launched 110 years ago. Perhaps the oldest of American fighting ships are the frigates Constitution and the U. S. S. Constellation, both built in 1797, the former at Boston and the latter at Baltimore.

Another nautical anniversary of to-day goes back to 1792, when, on the 7th of May, Capt. Robert Gray entered the Columbia river in the American ship Columbia, and named the great Northwest stream after his vessel. It was Gray's discovery which formed the basis of the American title to what are now the States of Oregon and Washington.

To many people the 7th of May is a date which recalls memories of a terrible ocean disaster, the wreck of the Hamburg mail steamer Schiller on the rocks off the Scilly Isles 39 years ago to-day. The disaster cost the lives of 331 people. Only 43 were saved, and of those only one was a woman. A dense fog was prevailing at the time, and the Schiller was cast on a reef and pounded to pieces. Twenty-five members of the crew escaped by swimming ashore, a distance of about a mile. Three days elapsed before the first authentic news of the disaster reached the world. One of the many Americans drowned was Joseph Schiltz, founder of the Milwaukee brewing company.

FIRST THINGS

The first through transcontinental railroad, the Union Pacific, was completed forty-five years ago to-day, May 7, 1869, affording rail connection between the east and the rapidly growing communities of the Pacific slope. The Union Pacific was the only transcontinental line until 1883, when three rival lines entered into competition for the traffic and opened up much new country. In that year the Southern Pacific linked up its line from New Orleans to California, the Northern Pacific was completed from Minneapolis to Washington and Puget Sound, and the Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe, with its connections, formed a fourth road of steel across the continent. In the meantime, the first attempt to build a Canadian transcontinental line, initiated in 1873, had ended in scandal and failure, but the project was revived and in 1886 the Canadian Pacific system was completed and inaugurated a through service from Montreal to Vancouver. Subsequent transcontinental lines include the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound, the Missouri Pacific, Rio Grande-Western Pacific system and the Great Northern.

WHAT THIN FOLKS SHOULD DO TO GAIN WEIGHT

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs, who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strong-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this perfect preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. It could not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

History, which is indeed little more than the register of the crimes, follies and misfortunes of mankind.—Gibbon.

LAI D TO REST

Late John Bartlett, Baltic Veteran, Buried With Fitting Honors; Campaigners Attend.

The funeral of the late John Bartlett, a veteran of the Baltic and one of the oldest of the members of the British Campaigners' association, took place this afternoon at the Ross Bay cemetery, the obsequies being under the auspices of the Campaigners' association.

Services took place at the B. C. Funeral parlors at 230, the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick in charge, and a delegation of old campaigners being among those present in the chapel. At the conclusion of the solemn service the last mortal remains of the old veteran were conveyed by the gun carriage loaned by Lieut.-Colonel Winbury and the Fifth regiment to Ross Bay cemetery, the casket draped with a Union Jack, and among the beautiful tributes were placed about it being the laurel wreath—the emblem of valor—sent by the members of the British Campaigners' association. The pallbearers, as far as possible had been selected from Baltic veterans present, and among others who formed part of the little cortege was a detachment from the naval dockyard, Major Ridgway Wilson, and a bearer party of blue-jackets from H. M. C. S. Rainbow.

Among the beautiful wreaths sent was one from the Imperial Order of the Daughters of Empire.

THEFT ALLEGED

Much Evidence Taken in Case of J. Gordon Grant, Which Began This Morning.

Pages of evidence were taken this morning in connection with three charges preferred against J. Gordon Grant, of this city. Progress was made this morning with the hearing of the charge of alleged theft of furniture belonging to Charley Bo, the Chinese tailor on Government street, and this is being continued this afternoon. R. C. Lowe, who is defending, announced this morning that because of certain circumstances which had just come to light, his client preferred to stand his trial before a higher court, and so elected.

Charley Bo was practically the only witness heard this morning, his examination by the city prosecutor and cross-examination by counsel for the defence lasting for well over an hour. Grant Bo said he had only known Charley since the end of February. In March he had rented to Grant for a consideration of $25 a month a house on Catharine street, Victoria West, which contained a certain amount of furniture worth about $200. The house and furniture belonged to Ting, his brother-in-law, who had gone to China for a while, leaving Bo in charge of his house and furniture. Bo produced documentary evidence to prove this.

He said Grant had taken the house and he had visited him on several occasions after he had taken up his residence in it. On the night of April 28, however, Bo had gone to the house and found it empty, both of occupant and furniture. Later he discovered the furniture in a second-hand store on Yates street.

Shown a receipt purporting to have been written by one Chow in return for money paid by Grant, Bo absolutely denied that the signature had been written by Chow. He admitted Grant and Chow were in partnership on certain contracts.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION IN COUPLE OF YEARS

Yuan Shih-Kai Becoming More Unpopular Says Missionary From China

"In a couple of years there'll be another upset," predicted Rev. T. Page, a missionary returning from the interior of China by the Awa Maru, which berthed from the Orient this morning. "Yuan Shih-Kai is assuming a position very much like that of Diaz in Mexico a few years ago, and the people of the south resent it very keenly. He is regarded rather favorably in his own province, but the Cantonese and other southerners are opposed to him very strongly. I expect another revolution before many years. He is this kind of a man: When the White Wolf, a great robber in Honan, ravaged the country far and wide, he was unable to do anything, but as soon as the robber attacked Yuan Shih-Kai's ancestral home he sent 10,000 troops against him. The people of Honan did not like that, you may be sure."

Mr. and Mrs. Page have been living for the past 10 years with a year's interruption in the far west of China, in the least known province of all, Kweichow. There are about 25 missionaries of the China inland mission scattered among war stations and a number of out-stations in the province, and one other white man, an Italian, who is superintendent of the post office. Within the past few months some other missionaries have entered the province, but the Pages have never seen them.

There is no trade with the outside world conducted by the people of Kweichow, according to Mr. and Mrs. Page. The principal inhabitants are the aboriginal inhabitants of China, who have been driven back into the hills by the ordinary Chinese. The good lands in Kweichow are held by the conquerors, but the province is very hilly and the aborigines predominate. They are peaceable people living in small tribes and speaking many dialects of a language totally different from Chinese. They grow rice and Indian corn and trade at the market places for other necessities. Their dress and customs and appearance are all different from those of the Chinese who live on the coast.

Kweichow is the most inaccessible province in China," stated Mrs. Page. "It took us over a month to reach the coast. There are no railways and no waterways into Kweichow and it was necessary to travel for 9 days in a sedan chair to the river. The men, of course, could ride. Then we traveled for weeks in native boats and finally for three or four days in a steamer."

One of the missionaries, stated Mr. and Mrs. Page, was that during the revolution there was safety throughout the province. There were no Manchus to resist the revolution, and consequently, although there was much excitement there was little or no fighting.

Mr. and Mrs. Page intend to reside in Vancouver. Their return after just two years since their last furlough is due to Mrs. Page's health. They left the Awa Maru this morning and went to Vancouver by this afternoon's C. P. R. boat. Mr. Page is an Englishman, but Mrs. Page is a native of Guelph, Ont.

On seeing the immigration officers examining the disembarking Japanese as they came ashore, Mr. and Mrs. Page inquired what had become of the boatload of Hindus who left Shanghai on the Komagata Maru. Yet at that time the Komagata Maru had not yet arrived, they expressed interest as to what would be the outcome of the unusual voyage.

APRIL FIRES

Chief Davis Gives Report of His Department for Last Month—Fourteen Alarms Sent In.

The fire report for Victoria for April was issued by Chief Davis to-day. The outbreaks of fire during the month were not numerous, but the department did excellent work in quenching several outbreaks at their inception, thus saving valuable properties by preventing them from spreading.

The loss by fire on buildings during the month amounted to $832.25, and on contents to $645, so that the total loss by fire on buildings and contents for the month was $1,477.25. The structures themselves were covered by insurance to the amount of $25,000 and contents by $6,500.

During the month eleven telephone alarms were received by the department and promptly answered, as were three box alarms, bringing the total number of alarms for the month of April to fourteen.

That the department has been by no means idle is indicated by the fact that 3,350 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose was laid and 333 gallons of chemical used during April. The number of feet of ladders raised has been computed by Chief Davis at 131, while the distance travelled by the department during the month has been definitely fixed at 80 miles, 1,310 yards.

Rubbish-burning permits to the number of 314 were granted during the month and five large gasoline tanks were inspected by the chief. Twenty-five notices were served.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the infant son of J. J. Taylor took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Andrew's cathedral, where services were conducted by Rev. Father Silver. The child's death took place at Esquimalt on Tuesday last. Interment was at Ross Bay cemetery, the Victoria Undertaking company acting.

LOCAL NEWS

Building Permits.—Plans have been prepared by A. P. Archibald for a handsome dwelling for H. O. Litchfield, to be erected on Hilda street, and a permit for this was issued to-day by the building inspector. Another permit issued was to Mrs. Bertha Deacon for a dwelling on Scott street.

To Consider Proposal.—In order to consider whether or not the board shall be represented on the executive of the Victoria and Island Development association, a special meeting of the council of the board of trade has been arranged for to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. Vice-president C. H. Lugin will preside in the absence of Hon. E. G. Prior, president.

Filippo on Trial.—The trial began before Judge Lampman this morning of Tony Filippo, accused of forging the name of Sam Gazepis on the back of a bank draught given him by Vasilios Caragannis to post. He is also accused of the theft of the draught. H. W. Herchmer is conducting the prosecution and H. W. R. Moore the defence and much time was spent in cross-examining Caragannis with a view to exposing a motive for the prosecution. The trial continued this afternoon.

Recipient of Presentation.—Last evening P. C. Abel, of the Macey Office Equipment company, was the recipient of a handsome set of silver candelabra, the gift being made by his fellow-employees, and being by way of a wedding-present. Mr. Abel left to-day for the east, where his marriage will take place shortly, after which he will return to Victoria with his bride to take up his residence here. The presentation was the occasion for numerous felicitous expressions. Mr. Abel being a very popular member of the staff.

Mother's Day Service.—The second Sunday in May has come to be almost universally observed as Mother's day and in recognition of this a special service will be held at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening. Rev. J. E. Warnier will preach on "Mothers and Monsters" and special solos will be sung by Mrs. Georges D'Arnold and F. Waddington. The church will be appropriately decorated and everyone is requested to wear a white carnation, the emblematic flower of the day.

Hurt in Cave-In.—Two men, named respectively Cook and Collect, were injured at the excavations of the new drill hall this morning when a cave-in jammed them both up heavily against a wall. The police patrol was sent for and quickly arrived in the care of Constable Ireland and Driver Walton, who administered first aid to such good effect that the men were greatly eased, and it was not found necessary to send them to the hospital. Their injuries are not severe, and they will probably both resume work to-morrow.

Swimming Club.—Members of the Y. W. C. A. are taking a keen interest in the formation of a swimming club, the organization of which was decided on at a recent meeting of the committee appointed to discuss this matter. Classes, which will commence as soon as the requisite number have submitted their names for membership, will be held on Monday evenings from 6 to 10, and on Thursday mornings from 9 to 12, at the Y. M. C. A. baths, which have been kindly placed at the disposal of the girls' association for this purpose. The meeting to-morrow afternoon will further discuss plans in connection with the levelling and preparation of the tennis court at the Y. W. C. A. Any intending members of the swimming club are asked to send their names at once to the general secretary.

WAS WITH R.N.W.M.P.

Colonel McIlree to Address History Study Class of Women's Canadian Club.

Colonel McIlree, who is to address the meeting of the Canadian Women's club to-morrow afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. rest-rooms, is well qualified to speak on the subject chosen: "The Northwest Mounted Police." Of Scottish origin, he was born in Jamaica, and attended the Windsor academy, Nova Scotia, and the Southampton college and Royal Military college, Sandhurst. In 1870 he enlisted for the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. In 1874 he was promoted to the inspectorship, and in 1892 to assistant commissioner. He has seen much active and honorable service, and was commander of the detachment of the force brought in contact with the Altimet Voice at One Arrow's reserve during the rebellion. Later, at the opening of the Yukon, he was employed at Skagway in pushing supplies across the mountain range there.

Mrs. William Malby, of Esquimalt, left yesterday morning for the Naas on a short visit to her friends and relatives.

Professor Kline, of Montreal, was one of the party including Dr. F. F. Westbrook, president of the University of British Columbia, and Industrial Commissioner Obee, of Vernon, which travelled by the midnight boat to Vancouver.

A wedding of interest to many Victoria people took place on Tuesday, May 5, in Ottawa, when Miss Eva Loewen, who has been abroad for some time, was united in marriage to C. J. Prior, the well-known barrister of this city. Miss Loewen is a daughter of Mrs. Loewen, of Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Prior will return to make their home here.

Minneapolis, May 7.—Pitcher George Mogridge, of the Minneapolis American association baseball team, was released to the Des Moines club.

WASHINGTON TRAINING.

Seattle, May 7.—Hiram B. Conibear, director of aquatics at the University of Washington, last night began sending the varsity eight-oar crew over the four-mile course on Lake Washington in preparation for the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next month.

PREPARE FOR SATURDAY.

Philadelphia, May 7.—Both the 'varsity and freshmen crews of the University of Pennsylvania were given strenuous practice yesterday for their races on Saturday against Princeton and Columbia on Carnegie lake. Coach Nickalls announced that members of both crews are fit for a fast race, and that the same eight that defeated Annapolis a few weeks ago will compete against Columbia and Princeton. The varsity seating will be: Captain, Watrous; bow, Butler; Gotham, A. Littleton; Garvin; Merrick; R. Littleton; stroke, Shoemaker; coxswain, Foster.

SENTENCED AS VAGRANT.

Chinaman Was Discovered Sleeping in Empty House in Victoria West.

Sam Kees, a Chinaman of ferocious aspect, sat in the dock of the police court and glared around this morning. Sam, the authorities state, has been in the habit of selling liquor to Indians and indulging in other practices which are a little on the windy side of the law, but of late he has been watched so closely that he has not been able to earn a dollar for a long time.

Consequently for the past few nights Sam has been unable to provide himself a bed to sleep in. Even in Chinatown there was not where to lay his head. So that he took to creeping into empty houses as soon as the shades of night drew on, and there made his bed on the bare boards, it was stated by the police. Last night he was found thus in an empty abode in Victoria West, and was this morning brought into court charged with vagrancy.

Detective Edens stated that he had known Sam for nearly a year, and that he had the reputation of supplying Indians with the forbidden fire water. He himself had on occasions turned Sam off the reserve.

The Chinaman evidently had the idea that though a self-confessed vagrant he would be allowed to go free. As soon as the magistrate sentenced him to two months' imprisonment, he started for the door and freedom and struggled with the constable who held him back. He was taken to the cells shouting in Chinese, and his cries could be heard some time after the court had resumed its sitting.

INTERESTING NUMBER.

Current Issue of Poultry Magazine Has Many Useful Articles and Excellent Photographs.

The May number of Poultry, Pigeons and Petstock Journal of the West, edited by W. Miller Higgs, keeps up the promise conveyed in the first two numbers of this enterprising monthly devoted to the interests of western poultrymen and fanciers. It contains a well written and comprehensive record of the doings of various varieties of livestock in this province during the month, and has in addition several useful and original articles by experts calculated to be of interest to all keepers of fowl.

The pages are enlivened by a number of excellent plates, comprising sketches and photographs, not a few of which are devoted to the last Vancouver dog show.

MAQUINNA FOR WEST COAST.

Last night the C. P. R. steamer Princess Maquinna, Capt. Gilliam, left port for Holberg and other west coast ports with a full list of passengers and some freight.

SYSTEM IN SPENDING
URGED BY SPEAKER

Mrs. G. L. Foulkes, of Local Council of Women, Addresses Rotary Club.

Mrs. G. L. Foulkes, chairman of the committee appointed by the Local Council of Women to draw up a platform on household economics, explained to the members of the Rotary club, at its luncheon this afternoon,
 what was the women's point of view
 on the high cost of living. The members of the club brought ladies with them and the attendance was unusually large.

That the present unwarranted high prices affected the business man as adversely as the housewife was Mrs.
 Foulkes' contention, as they proved a stumbling block in the path of families
 who would otherwise come here and settle. Victoria was known throughout the Dominion as a very dear place
 to live, the speaker said, and the movement which was spreading across the Dominion for the forming of housewives' leagues was nowhere more appropriate than here. Such leagues could succeed only if all the men and women stood together. Many women in Victoria were so fortunate that they did not have to be concerned about prices, but these for the sake of the less fortunate should co-operate in the movement which was being organized. The housewives' league had had a tremendous effect in Calgary, she stated.

The scheme was to form this league
 for the reduction of the cost of living.
 The matter of housekeeping must be made a business. If business firms were run on the same haphazard plan
 as that on which houses were conducted there would be failures every day. A man spent six or eight years working himself up to a position where he could make enough money to pay
 a woman to take a few weeks or months learning how to spend that money for him.

A few of the suggestions made by Mrs. Foulkes were that housekeepers demand from dealers clean goods and full weight and measure; should sys-tematize buying so as to use as few deliveries as possible thereby reducing the shopkeeper's expenses; should pay cash, shop personally and early in the day and make use of gardens for growing vegetables. Ninety per cent.
 of all the wages paid in America was spent by women and the spending
 should be done on a scientific basis.
 Mrs. Foulkes' address was received with much applause.

STOCK MARKET SHORT
OF INFLUENTIAL NEWS

Professional Operations Constituted Most of Trading;
 Close Was Dull

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
 New York, May 7.—Prices bore up well but remained practically at a standstill for want of influential news,
 dragging near the close.

Backing and filling of the professional element constituted the major portion of trading, although general buying of different leaders was good at various periods.
 The copper producers' statement is due on Friday and also the statement of the Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage is awaited by the financial community.

The government report on grain came through to-day. This showed a very favorable percentage figure, but exerted small influence on the grangers,
 having been largely discounted in the stock market.

CONDITION OF WINTER
CROP BEST OF YEARS

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
 Chicago, May 7.—There was good wire news buying of July wheat, which followed strength in the May, the new crop months going 8 1/4 to 8 1/2. The action of the trade to-day seemed dependent on the crop report due directly after the close. Nevertheless there was a tendency to follow some bullish
 features of the foreign and domestic markets. Northwest receipts were light, prices in that quarter at times stronger than here. Support was more withdrawn near the close of the session.
 Government figures indicated a condition of 95.7 for the winter crop, the highest of years.
